

Stewart Devaney

Business Development Manager at Metal Manufactures Electrical Merchandising

Summary

Started my working life 29 years ago as an Electrical Fitter working in the Industrial Mining market. Left the Electrical industry for 10 years in 1994 to start an wholesale importing and distribution business in the golf market. This helped build my passion for working with clients. Since then I have been working for MM Mining and Industrial in various roles. My current role as BDM is to ensure our customers are serviced as well as possible and look for new opportunities in our competitive industry. Currently we are excited about the role out off our new online platform
